Truman's Role In Campaign To Be Decided

Stevenson Expected To Tell President 'No Whistlestop Tour

WASHINGTON (A) - President Truman may be asked today to play a muted second fiddle to Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois in the Democratic campaign for the presidency.

Stevenson's scheduled arrival here today for White House conferences with the President and a cabinet luncheon is expected to bring a decision in the backstage controversy over Truman's role in the campaign.

Unless all the outward signs fail the Illinois governor probably will tell Truman he will be glad to have his help. But Stevenson is expected to make it plain he wants no presidential whistlestop tours overshadowing his own efforts as

Ike To Stress Need For Peace

Still Silent On Campaign Plans

DENVER (#)-Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower says "the outlook is not too bright" for a durable world peace unless Americans gain a thorough understanding of the complex problems involved.

The Republican nominee told a news conference late yesterday he'll touch on the subject in every campaign speech.

"The great subject of peace and how to obtain it," the general declared, "overshadows all other subjects because it affects all others."

But efforts of newsmen to draw out details of Eisenhower's campaign plans got nowhere. The GOP standard bearer did say he expects to speak in Philadelphia but that no date has been set. To Campaign In South

He repeated he will campaign in traditionally Democratic Dixie. And, in response to a question, he said no speech yet has been scheduled for Labor Day.

He indicated, however, that plans may be completed after a current round of conferences.

Yesterday he met with Southern backers and with Republican farm leaders in Congress. Last night, Arthur E. Summerfield, national GOP chairman, flew in with what aides said was a proposed itinerary for the next 30 days.

To Meet Stassen

Harold Stassen, who campaigned unsuccessfully for the Republican nominated, is scheduled to arrive tonight and to have lunch tomorrow with Eisenhower.

One of those on the appointments list today was Allen Kline, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Newsmen questioned Eisenhower about his conference with eight members of the House and Senate Agriculture Committees.

Benefits Of Toil

Being of the belief that more can be learned from reading want ads than from reading the wishful thoughts of theorists elsewere in a newspaper, we have been making a want-ad survey of the benefits of toil in 1952.

The American working class, which includes just about all of us, is being lured into employment and presumably imprisoned therein by many things besides dire necessity these days. The want ads reveal what they are:

Company-paid pensions, night shift premiums, clean places to work, plenty of overtime, guaranteed salaries and liberal bonuses for salesmen, liberal vacations, good chances for advancement transportation furnished, convenient locations, paid holidays, escalator clauses. health, life and accident insurance, steady employment, old-age no handicap.

Besides these basic baits, a dazzling variety of dry and wet flies are being used for special purposes. Engineering-school graduates this year were tempted with offers of pleasing scenery, salubrious climate, moving expenses paid, a chance to get marrieed and high-type companionship.

Belonging to the working class has its disadvantages, to be sure, such as the necessity of working. But never, except in all-out wartime, have the disadvantages been softened with so many pillows.

So They Nabbed Latva

And now comes the curious case of Carl A. Latva, Finnish-born mill worker up in New Hampshire, deported because 19 years ago he signed a Communist party membership application and never did anything further about it.

What makes the Latva case curious is that the defendant was not then and is not now a Communist. He is a naturalized U. S. citizen who told the truth about something he did when he was a dumb, green kid and thereby made himself subject to deportation by a federal court order issued under authority of a federal law which is being enforced—the McCarran Act.

The U.S. Department of Justice is not always this finicky about keeping Communists at bay. If Communist labor leaders perjure themselves by making affidavits under the Taft-Hartley Act that they never have had anything to do with conspiracy to overthrow the government of the United States, they are safe as civil service workers in a government houseclean-

The big difference is that the Taft-Hartley Act isn't being enforced. The Truman administration doesn't like it.

First, Load The Gun

A staff report to the Senate's subcommittee on labor and management that the non-Communist oath in the Taft-Hartley Act should be repealed raises two questions.

Why should any congressional committee publish any criticism of a law by its employes, unless the committee, itself, joins in the criti-

Why should a congressional committee permit criticism of a provision in the Taft-Hartley Act which never has been enforced?

The ostensible purpose of the so-called non-Communist affidavit required by the law was to keep Communists from enjoying the privileges of the National Labor Relations Board. But the real purpose was to booby-trap Communists who risked perjuring themselves to keep their identity from being known. They were going to be tricked into shooting themselves with their own false affidavits.

But this entailed prosecution for perjury. That is where the idea failed. The Truman administration had no intention of making the booby trap work. It never loaded the gun. It had no intention whatever of letting some of its best friends get plugged between the eyes.

It never prosecuted. The affidavits became a joke. That is why, according to the staff report published by the Senate subcommittee on labor and management, they should not be required.

Finland fills the bill as a compromise victor. Its hospitality, efficiency and the good example it set for thousands of foreigners with its poise and good humor in the face of hardship set new Olympic records.

The Finns have more than an academic interest in the outcome of competition between the United States and the Soviet Union. They can be overrun by e Russians anytime; they are still paying heavy reparations for daring to defend themselves against Russia before and used in connectinon with contemporary Austria is a misnomer. The Austrians themselves prefer to call the treaty that would provide for an end of Allied occupation a "Staatsvertrag," or state treaty.

The holdup on a solution for Austria can be laid to the Soviet Union. In seven years since World War II, the occupying powers have held 258 meetings without reaching a compromise on certain major areas of dispute.

For a long time, Yugoslav demands for a part of the southern area of Austria known as Carinthia held up negotiations. After the open revolt of Marshal Tito and the Yugoslav Communist party in the summer of 1948, the Soviet Union no longer pressed the Yugoslav

The one remaining issue of firstrate importance between the Allies and Russia in negotiations over Austria is the Soviet claim to German assets in Austria. The Communistic world now announces its new order: smash the Red Cross, crucify the angel of mercy, cripple the helping hand! This is the new Soviet directive: slug the binder of wounds! . . . smear the nurse ministering to the wounded on the smoke-filled field of battle! ... belittle the rescuers hastening to flood, fire, quake and holocaust! sour the milk of human kindness!

This is the Moscow agenda:

Smear the mericful exploits of gallant men and women in a thousand disasters and calamities! laugh off the memories of Mt. Etna, the Japanese quakes, the plagues and pestilences of Asia relieved by the nobility of the hungry spirit! Excoriate those working amid fallen falls, the debris of a scourged city, the horrors of flood and famine!

HAVE A LOOK at the all-out crusade to: Befoul the Sermon on the Mount, the Ten Commandments and the laws of humanity! harass the worker among the afflicted! stay the hand of doctor, nurse, ambulance driver and litter bearer! . . . sneer at those who minister to the wounded and dying! impede the life-saver, the bringer of relief, the distributor of alms and medicine! make it tough for the healer and the comforter! And that "ain't all. This is the Voice of the Soviet world: Scoff at the monuments to Florence Nightingale! . . . toss a derisive glance at the memorials to Clara Barton! . . . stifle the look of pity! muffle the expression of brother love! give the cold shoulder to compassion! throw up a road block in the patch of the Good Samaritan! . . . veto the Human Heart! . . . tenderness and solicitude! The stress placed upon softer lines in fall fashions means, of course, that there's a new softness in fabrics.

To interpret the softer silhouette, designers have turned to softer fabrics. Thus, we'll see much of the chiffon woolens, either woven or knit. This includes chiffon tweed, since tweed is always with us in some form, come autumn.

Similarly, tweed is developed in the fluid, readily molded fabric called tweed jersey. Such tweeds are equally at home in town or country, are readily teamed with the sophistication of black velvet or black suede. Dress in tweed jersey (left) by Eisenberg has full gathered skirt with slot hip pockets. There's a dolman cut for the sleeves, which are cuffed in the black velvet used for the vestee and the roll collar with deep V neckline. Wide belt is in velvet, too.

Chiffon tweed is used (right) by this same designer for a dress that buttons down the front. Dolman sleeves end just below the elbow. Soft fullness is achieved through two loose panels with slash pockets that begin at the neckline, are belted in by black suede, and fly out from the waistline.

General Mud Takes Over On The Korean Front-- Roving Reports By HAL BOYLE Gen. Gray's Son Lost In Jet Plane Crash

Plagued by abnormally heavy summer rains, UN troops in Korea battle thick, clinging mud as well as the Communist enemy. It bogs down supply movements, hampers communications and turns front-line foxholes into mud baths. Typical conditions troops face are shown in photos below.

Army engineers aided by Korean laborers dig drainage trenches alongside roads so rain water will seep away from the supply highway.

Pfc. Henry Dalton, of the 1st Marine Division, huddles under his poncho between attempts to bail out his rain-filled foxhole.

Southeastern Conference Suspends Kentucky Cagers 1 Year

Wildcat Cage Slate Shattered

Two Grid Players Named Ineligible

By KYLE VANCE BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (A)-Kentucky, a temporary castout from the conference its basketball forces ruled with an iron fist, tackled the its cage slate today. Yesterday's one-year suspension from the Southeastern Conference, an unprecedented penalty levied for the school's laxity in administering its sports program, left Kentucky with only 10 games on its project of filling 14 open dates on hardwood schedule. In addition, the SEC ruled that two football players were ineligible for future participation and fined Kentucky $500 for each of them.

The basketball suspension was ordered by the SEC Executive Committee. It means Kentucky can play no conference school for the duration of the suspension, but leaves the Wildcats free to play any school outside the conference.

In this connection, however, the SEC dropped a hint that Kentucky might have to rule on the eligibility of one or more basketball players before they would be accepted by the National Collegiate Athletic Association. It said Kentucky's suspension was for "violation of rules Open Big Series and regulations" of the SEC. Only eligibility rules appear strong enough to stand behind a sus-

Open Champ Wins With Strong Finish

By JERRY LISKA CHICAGO P-Golf's golden August visit by Santa Claus in the person of promoter George S. May could be bigger and better next Phi year than his $120,000 Tam O'-Shanter show just closed.

That should be good news to the likes of U. S. Open Champion Pitt Julius Boros and the golfing dentist, Cary Middlecoff, who yesterday settled for a record $25,000 and $12,500 respectively in a playoff for May's "world championship of golf."

May said he has dates reserved with the PGA next year for his annual Tam O'Shanter carnival and has in mind an even greater jackpot than he paid in the dovetailed $30,000 All-American and "World" the past two $90,000 weeks.

May plans to increase the $25, 000 World first prize and the $3,420 top melon in the All-American. He may even arrange regional playoffs to bring a larger field to the combined meets.

There were reports that Boros, who rallied furiously for his twostroke, 4-under-par 68 playoff victory, and the vanquished Middlecoff had an under-the-table deal New York to split the World $25,000 first and Cleveland $12,500 second prizes.

That would have given each Washington $18,750 and the word was out that Chicago they had arranged to settle the Philadelphia taxes on the entire $37,500 swag. But the two players and the Detroit PGA denied such a maneuver. The PGA's freshest money - winning list had Boros in front with $34,332, based on a $25,000 first "World prize and Middlecoff second with $27,739, pegged on second "World" money of $12,500.

Boros, performing much like he did in his surprise U.S. Open triumph, came out of sand traps in brilliant style to whip Middlecoff on the last four holes yester-

Have You Ever Been To A FLOWER SHOW?

AFTERMATH

Since I wen to a flower show, gosh, how I've changed! I've been seized with a powerful yen To fill an old shoe With heather and yew To enhance the DECOR of my den!

Next time you sit in my parlor ,you'll note How original I have become, I now stick my bluets, In Grandmother's cruets, And ivy in Junior's toy drum!

I discovered a churn in the attic today. And I'm telling you now, quite SUB ROSA, I know from the start, How terribly smart,

It'll look filled with blue Scabiosa! I've dug up some charming containers you'll see, For the clever displaying of flora, I've found a new locus. For pansy and crocus-
